WELCOME FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear SAMLA Members and Conference Guests,

SAMLA 90 conference's theme, Fighters from the Margins: Socio-Political Activists and Their Allies, certainly resonates in today's political scene. Whether as part of Black Lives Matter or #MeToo, activists have taken to the streets or embraced social media to elevate messages of social equality. Historically, formal literary works and other types of artistic production have been at the forefront of socio-economic and political activism. In my own cultural tradition, Latin American and Latinx literatures have been central components of organized movements of protest.

Our pre-conference event will take place at Birmingham's Civil Rights Institute, a significant stage for Dr. Margarita Drago's poetic reading. A former desaparecida political prisoner during the Argentine Dirty War, Drago's literature (in memoir and poetry) traces militant strategies in which Argentine women fought the brutality of a military dictatorship alongside men. Her current literary production explores ways in which Latin American women have bravely organized themselves as political activists. At the end of her presentation, we invite you to visit the powerful exhibitions at the Civil Rights Institute.

Latinx short story writer and novelist Lorraine López, Gertrude Conaway Vanderbilt Professor of English, will be our keynote speaker. Widely recognized as among the most innovative Latinx writers, López brings to fiction the complex socio-economic circumstances that Latinx individuals are often forced to navigate in the Southwest United States. Her work also highlights women characters whose fights against patriarchal and cultural traditions force them to embark upon innovative activist strategies of survival.

I am honored that Drago and López accepted my invitations to share their work with you. I know you will enjoy their powerful presentations. I am proud to call them my friends.

Finally, I encourage you to attend sessions different from your chosen literary discipline, including venturing into panels that highlight international activism produced in languages other than English. With 231 panel sessions, you may choose from traditional area studies or emerging new fields, such as Gender and Sexualities. Languages and literatures written in non-English languages have a strong presence, with some 64 panels. I also encourage you to drop by one of the 17 Undergraduate Research Forum panels. You will be surprised, or perhaps not, that there are so many connections among world-wide activist movements.

Above all, have a lot of fun! Make new acquaintances and renew old friendships. I am looking forward to welcoming you in Birmingham.

Rafael Ocasio, Agnes Scott College
2018 President, SAMLA

WELCOME FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dear SAMLA Members and Friends,

Welcome to SAMLA 90: Fighters from the Margins: Socio-Political Activists and Their Allies in the historical Civil Rights city, Birmingham, Alabama. I commend this year's SAMLA President, Professor Rafael Ocasio, for having chosen what could not be a more fitting theme for our conference here in Birmingham. Creative writer and scholar Lorraine M. López will deliver this year's plenary address on Saturday. I look forward to what I know will be an inspiring and informative talk. We open the conference on Thursday with a Pre-Conference Event, featuring a reading by Margarita Drago at the Birmingham Civil Rights Institute from 6–8 pm.

Our meeting this year in Birmingham is some distance away from North and South Carolina, where many areas were devastated by the fury of Hurricane Florence. In the aftermath of this storm, we find ourselves again in the throes of our annual conference, aware that many of our colleagues have been recovering from the storm's damage. For those affected, we want to take time out to extend our wishes for a smooth and speedy return to normal.

The range of panels portends a conference that will promote lively scholarly engagement: our panel numbers in areas of pedagogy and multi-ethnic literatures continue to grow, while panels focusing in traditional literary studies topics and authors remain strong. This year again we are happy to have undergraduates present as attendees and as participants in the poster panels and feedback panels. Exposure at the undergraduate level is so often the spark that sets undergraduates on the road to graduate study.

I have the pleasure of reporting again another successful year of SAR publication under the editorship of Dr. Barton Palmer and Managing Editor M. Allison Wise. The journal's publication is on schedule, and the issues continue to present topics and texts that are at the forefront of our field.

It is again fitting to acknowledge the hard work of our SAMLA staff and executive committee members. The smoothness of our operations and the success of the conference are the direct result of their commitment. The Georgia State University Department of English continues as the home base for the SAMLA office and to support operations through graduate student professionalization as well as graduate and undergraduate interns and volunteers. Department Chair Dr. Lynée L. Gaillet remains committed to the longstanding relationship between SAMLA and GSU.

Associate Director Dan Abitz has now had a full year plus in the position and has demonstrated the kind of leadership that is key to the many hats that must be worn in this position. He leads a staff that changes a bit each year, but one that with qualified leadership continues SAMLA's tradition of excellence that results in each year's conference successes. Dionne Clark is with us again as Conference Manager and serves this year in a bonus capacity with her inside knowledge of Birmingham that comes from being a native of the city. Matthew Sansbury has brought us another year of seamlessly executed website management and conference program design. I wish to extend many thanks to our graduate professionalization staff, interns and volunteers, particularly for their presence as the onsite force behind our conference success.

Finally, thank you again for joining us in Birmingham for SAMLA 90. Enjoy the conference events and some of the greatness of this historic city of the US Civil Rights movement.

THE 90TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE OF THE SOUTH ATLANTIC MODERN LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION: HISTORY, INFORMATION, AND GUIDANCE

A BRIEF HISTORY OF SAMLA

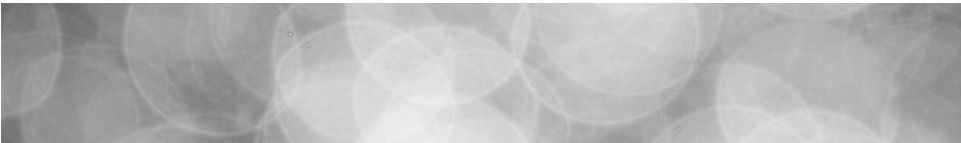

In 1928, a delegation from the North Carolina Modern Language Association proposed the formation of a regional Modern Language Association for individuals in the southeastern states. In response, delegates from regional universities met at the Henry Grady Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia, on December 28, 1928, to form the South Atlantic Modern Language Association. SAMLA became formally affiliated with MLA in 1956.

Initially, the organization included members from North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. From 1932 to 1968, SAMLA expanded its membership to welcome universities and scholars from Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, and the District of Columbia. Within forty years, SAMLA grew from an organization representing four states to one including ten states and the District of Columbia.

The list of member states was officially abandoned in 1996 when the Constitution and Bylaws were amended to lift the state affiliation requirement. SAMLA now welcomes members from throughout the United States and around the world. Many universities in the Southeast have graciously hosted the SAMLA business offices throughout its history. Since 1995, SAMLA has been housed at Georgia State University in Atlanta, Georgia.

ABOUT SOUTH ATLANTIC REVIEW

Since its founding in 1935 as the newsletter for SAMLA, South Atlantic Review has become an academic journal committed to publishing research in modern languages and literatures, as well as in associated fields such as film, cultural studies, and rhetoric and composition.

The journal welcomes submissions of essays, between 6,500 and 8,000 words, that are accessible and of broad interest to its diverse readership across a number of disciplines. R. Barton Palmer is the current editor, and the journal's offices are now located at Clemson University. Submissions may be e-mailed directly to the managing editor of SAR, M. Allison Wise, at SouthAtlanticReview@clemson.edu. SAR also welcomes proposals for special issues and special focus sections. Additional information regarding submission requirements and book reviews can be found on our website at samla.memberclicks.net/sar.

SAMPLA MEMBERSHIP

SAMPLA is an organization of teachers, scholars, and students dedicated to the advancement of teaching as well as literary and linguistic scholarship in the modern languages. Membership is required to attend the annual conference, and yearly renewal entitles members to a subscription to the South Atlantic Review. Additional membership information and forms are available at samla.memberclicks.net/membership-information. Communication related to membership should be sent to samla@gsu.edu.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Since its inception in 1928, SAMPLA has consistently convened each year, with the brief exception of 1942, 1943, and 1944, when members agreed by mail ballot not to meet due to the crisis of World War II. The conference has been held throughout the South Atlantic region: Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia, and Washington, D.C.

In 2018, SAMPLA will hold its 90th annual conference. SAMPLA 90 will begin at 10:00 AM on Friday, November 2, 2018, and continue until 1:30 PM on Sunday, November 4, 2018. All events will take place at the Sheraton Birmingham, located at 2101 Richard Arrington Jr. Boulevard North, Birmingham, Alabama, 35203. The main telephone number for the hotel is 205-324-5000. A map of the conference center floor plan is included in the conference program, as well as a list of area restaurants.

CONFERENCE CHECK-IN AND NAMETAGS

Upon arriving at the conference, all participants and attendees must check in at SAMLA's registration desk on the Third Floor East to receive a nametag prior to attending sessions. Nametags will only be issued upon payment of the appropriate fees. Two separate fees are required to attend or participate in SAMLA 90: membership dues and the conference registration fee. Payments can be made by cash, check, or credit card at the registration desk. Nametags must be worn throughout the conference as evidence of proper registration.

SESSION PACKETS FOR CHAIRS

Chairs will receive a packet with information for their session at check-in. The packet includes the following materials: thank you letter, session attendance sheet, chair guidelines, and details on next year's conference. Please review these materials prior to your session and return your attendance sheet to the registration desk when your session is completed.

ASSISTANCE DURING THE CONFERENCE

If you need assistance during the conference, please go to the check-in table on the Third Floor East. A SAMLA representative will gladly assist you.

LOST AND FOUND

SAMLA staff will maintain a lost and found collection at the conference check-in table. After the conference, unclaimed items will be left at the hotel registration desk.

HOTEL PARKING AND VALET SERVICE

On-site parking is available at the Sheraton Birmingham for $1.50 per hour, $14.00 per day, or $14.00 per overnight stay. Valet parking is offered for $25 daily.

HOTEL SHUTTLE SERVICE

The Sheraton Birmingham offers complimentary shuttle service Monday through Sunday, from 4:30 AM to 11:00 PM. For further details, the shuttle service can be reached at 205-324-5000.

SUNDAY CHECKOUT AT THE SHERATON BIRMINGHAM

Checkout time for the conference hotel is 12:00 PM on Sunday. We have made special arrangements with the conference hotel staff to store your belongings until you leave the conference. When you check out of the hotel on Sunday, please ask hotel staff to store your luggage so that you may attend the closing session.

SMOKING

Please don't.

PLENARY SPEAKER PROFILE

Lorraine M. López is the Gertrude Conaway Professor of English at Vanderbilt University and author of six books of fiction and editor or coeditor of three essay collections. Her first book, Soy la Avon Lady and Other Stories won the inaugural Miguel Marmól Prize for fiction, and her second, Call Me Henri, was awarded the Paterson Prize for Young Adult Literature. López's short story collection, Homicide Survivors Picnic was a Finalist for the 2010

PEN/Faulkner Prize. Her subsequent novels are: The Gifted Gabaldón Sisters, The Realm of Hungry Spirits, and The Darling, a Finalist for Foreword Review's INDIEFAB Book of the Year Award and a 2016 book club selection by Las Comadres and Friends National Latino Book Club.

Dr. López's edited/co-edited essay collections are: An Angle of Vision: Women Writers on Their Poor or Working-Class Roots; The Other Latin@: Writing against a Singular Identity; and, Rituals of Movement in the Writings of Judith Ortiz Cofer. She recently completed a linked-story collection and a novel. The collected narratives comprise a campus comedy titled "Postcards from the Gerund State," and the titular piece is a novella about the struggles women artists face and the conflicts—large and small—that ensue in an arts residency in Wyoming. The novel, "What We Have Here," inscribes the experiences of a cross-dressing metal refinisher who accompanies his ex-wife and her children on a journey along El Camino Real through the California Mission system, a narrative that includes state history during the time Fray Junípero Serra oversaw the mission settlements.

Shortly after Dr. López was honored by Vanderbilt University with the 2016 Harvie Branscomb Distinguished Professor Award, she was named Gertrude Conaway Professor of English at Vanderbilt University. López co-founded, with Professor William Luis, the Latino and Latina Studies (LATS) Program at Vanderbilt.

Looking for new ideas for teaching nineteenth-century French literature?

Approaches to Teaching Hugo's Les Misérables

Edited by Michal P. Ginsburg and Bradley Stephens

"This collection constitutes a rich educational tool for instructors of French who want to teach and study this great novel."

—Jaques Neefs
Johns Hopkins University

The greatest work of one of France's greatest writers, Victor Hugo's Les Misérables seemed stylistically and even politically out of date when it was published in 1862. But its indictment of injustice, concern for those suffering in misery, unapologetic embrace of the ideals of the French Revolution, and memorable characters have proved irresistible to readers for a century and a half. The novel's length, multiple narratives, and encyclopedic digressiveness make it a pleasure to read but a challenge to teach, and this volume is designed to address the needs of instructors in a variety of courses that include the novel in excerpts or as a whole.

The Tennessee Williams Annual Review

Volume 17 (2018) now available

The Tennessee Williams Annual Review announces the first appearance in print of Williams's "Provisional Film Story Treatment of The Gentleman Caller (First Title)," a revealing precursor to The Glass Menagerie. Part screenplay, part plot summary, Williams's text spotlights Menagerie's missing father, Tom Wingfield Sr., who takes center stage as the gentleman caller, come to court Blue Mountain's reigning southern belle.

Also in the 2018 issue: Naghmeh Rezaie unpacks the 2011 Iranian film adaptation of Menagerie, Alison Walls investigates Williams's martyr figures, Barbara Neri illuminates the playwright's Elizabeth Barrett Browning references, Henry I. Schvey tracks D. H. Lawrence's influence, and R. Barton Palmer unearths Period of Adjustment's debt to Noël Coward.

Call for Papers

The journal reviews submissions year-round. The editors invite academic writing on all aspects of Williams's oeuvre, including studies of the productions of his plays and institutional issues. The journal routinely publishes brief texts from his literary archive. Of particular interest is the reception history of his work and public persona, as well as his influence on the cinema. Studies of his creative contemporaries and of relevant issues (e.g., the queer history of the period) are welcome.

Submissions should be 4,500 to 9,000 words, including notes and works cited, and should use MLA style. Please send as email attachments to R. Barton Palmer, editor (PPalmer@Clemson.edu), and Margit Longbrake, managing editor (MargitL@hnoc.org).

All submissions must be exclusive. For full guidelines, visit tennesseewilliamsstudies.org.

The Southern Quarterly

Published by The University of Southern Mississippi since 1962, The Southern Quarterly: A Journal of Arts & Letters in the South is a scholarly journal devoted to the interdisciplinary study of Southern arts and culture, including literature, history, anthropology, and the traditional arts.

At the height of modernism in the 1920s, what did it mean to engage with questions of belief or unbelief, while still remaining modernist?

Craig Woelfel seeks to answer this pivotal question in Varieties of Aesthetic Experience: Literary Modernism and Dissociation of Belief, a groundbreaking exploration of the relationship between secular modernity, literary modernism, and religious engagement.

Thomas Wolfe and History

The 41st Annual Conference of the Thomas Wolfe Society
May 24-25, 2019
Gettysburg, Pennsylvania

The Thomas Wolfe Society invites proposals for papers to be presented at our forty-first annual conference, "Thomas Wolfe and History." While studies of any aspect of Wolfe's work are welcome, we particularly encourage papers addressing history as subject, backdrop, inspiration or concern in Wolfe's writing. (Graduate or undergraduate students are eligible to compete for the Bittner Student Literary Prize with its award of $300.)

Send 250-word proposals by 7 January 2019 to Anne Zahlan at arzahlan@eiu.edu. For further information, visit us online at www.thomaswolferereview.org/2019-conference.

Linda-Raven Woods

The Black Artist and The Apocalyptic Vision: Three Songs That Defined Our Times

Spanning across three decades, three of the most influential African-American artists in popular music each created three songs that helped define a uniquely Black vision of life in a post-apocalyptic, dystopian America.

Linda-Raven Woods is a poet, fiction writer, and pop music scholar whose most recent publication, "Examining Michael Jackson's 'Bad' As Urban Fantasy" will be featured in the forthcoming collection Michael Jackson: Artist, Advocate, Provocateur. She is a professor at Alabama A&M University, where she teaches composition and literature.

SAMPLA 91 – GENERAL GUIDELINES AND CONSIDERATIONS FOR CHAIRS

The 2019 Conference will be held at the Westin Peachtree Plaza in Atlanta, Georgia, from November 8-10. The conference special focus will be Language as Power, Identity, Relationships. Session proposals are welcome on this or any topic of scholarly interest to the SAMPLA community.

SAMPLA members who wish to propose a Special Session may submit a Call for Papers/Special Session Proposal indicating their session title, chosen topic, and CFP language (as applicable). Chairs of Regular Sessions (those so designated by the Program Committee after the presentation of Special Sessions at three consecutive SAMPLA Conferences) or Affiliated Groups may also submit CFPs using the same CFP form. CFP forms will be available on the SAMPLA website beginning December 1, 2018.

November 2018 to April 2019: Chairs of Regular Sessions and Affiliated Groups are selected in one of four ways:

- a) Those who serve as Secretary in 2018 will become Chair of the 2019 session.
- b) If the session does not have a Secretary in 2018, Attendees of the 2018 session will elect a Chair for 2019.
- c) If a Chair seat is vacant at the beginning of the 2019 conference year, SAMPLA will post a call for volunteers in the CFP list. All Chairs of Regular Sessions and Affiliated Groups must be approved by SAMPLA. Additionally, approval by the Affiliated Group is also required for Chairs wishing to oversee those sessions.
- d) SAMPLA members who would like to propose a Special Session may select the Chair(s) at their discretion.

December 2018 to April 2019: SAMPLA Chairs begin their service by submitting a “Call for Papers / Special Session Proposal” form available online beginning December 1, 2018 at samlamemberclicks.net. This form requires:

- a) Name of Session (applicable for Regular Sessions and Affiliated Groups)
- b) Title of Session (required for all Special Sessions, optional for Regular Sessions or Affiliated Groups)
- c) Contact information for Chair(s)
- d) Contact information for Secretary (if applicable)
- e) Call for Paper language -or- brief summary of completed session if the panel is pre-formed
- f) Details for panel applicants: requested abstract length, submission deadline, any special requests for submissions (i.e. brief bios, CVs, document format, etc.)

CFPs received by February 15, 2019 will be featured in the annual SAMLA News.

January to May 2019: SAMLA Program Committee approval of CFPs and Special Sessions:

- a) Regular Sessions and Affiliated Groups with approved Chairs automatically receive CFP approval from the SAMLA Program Committee.
- b) Special Sessions are reviewed by the Program Committee and require approval before the CFP is published. The SAMLA office will notify all Special Session Chairs when their sessions are approved.

February to June 2019: Chairs receive abstract submissions from potential Panelists, select a complete panel, and notify Panelists of their acceptance. Please keep in mind the following guidelines when selecting Panelists:

- a) Sessions run 90-minutes long.
- b) Traditional panels require 3-4 Participants; roundtable discussions can have up to 5-7 Participants.
- c) A member may only present one scholarly paper in any given year. The Program Committee may approve the request to serve in additional panels as long as the nature of service in each panel differs significantly. This may include, but is not limited to: serving as both Chair and Panelist in one's own panel; serving as Chair in one session and Panelist in another session; serving as Panelist both in a traditional panel and on a roundtable discussion.

By June 28, 2019: Session Chairs have two important tasks required by this date:

- a) Submit the "Session Information Form" on the SAMLA website: samla.memberclicks.net. For this form, you will need to include the following:
 - (1) Full name of Participant as he/she would like it listed in the program
 - (2) Participant's university affiliation
 - (3) Participant's email address
 - (4) Full title of Participant's paper
 - (5) Any A/V requirements (visual and/or audio). SAMLA cannot guarantee A/V requested after June 28, 2019.
 - (6) Abstract from each panelist (Abstracts will be posted with member only access on the SAMLA website)
- b) Chair must process his/her SAMLA Membership through the current conference year (2019-2020) – Final Program Committee approval is contingent upon Chairs processing their membership by this date. Failure to process membership by June 28, 2019 will place your session at risk for cancellation.

August 16, 2019: The SAMLA office will publish the first online draft of the 2019 Conference Schedule. Once this schedule is posted online, the SAMLA staff will email all Chairs, Secretaries, and Panelists requesting that they preview their information to allow for necessary corrections. Please notify the SAMLA office of any corrections at samla@gsu.edu.

Before August 31, 2019: Session Chairs should communicate directly with Participants to ensure that they process their SAMLA Membership through the current year (2019-2020) by this date. Participants who have not processed their membership by August 31, 2019 will be removed from the conference program.

November 8-10, 2019 at SAMLA 91: Chairs should be sure to pick up their Chair Packets at the SAMLA Check-in Desk. When officiating the session, Chairs should remember to:

- a) Welcome Attendees to the panel
- b) Circulate the provided Attendance Sheet
- c) Remind Attendees of SAMLA 92, November 13-15, 2020 in Jacksonville, FL
- d) Select a Chair (if necessary) and Secretary for 2020
- e) Introduce Panelists
- f) Monitor paper-reading time (15-20 minutes for tradition panel, less for roundtable discussion)
- g) Moderate Question & Answer period at the end (15 minutes for traditional panel, more for roundtable discussion)
- h) Return Attendance Sheet according to the instructions in your Chair Packet

SAMPLA will also open a General Call for Papers for SAMLA 90. A General Call submission form will be available on the SAMLA website (samla.memberclicks.net) beginning April 1, 2019. The General Call is designed to create opportunities for scholars whose work does not fit into a posted CFP. Scholars are urged to review CFPs posted on the SAMLA website before submitting to the General Call for Papers. The General Call for Papers will close on July 12, 2019. While SAMLA staff will make every effort to place submissions to the General Call in existing panels or in new panels devised from General Call submissions, submission to the General Call does not guarantee participation in the 2019 SAMLA conference.

THE BIRMINGHAM CIVIL RIGHTS INSTITUTE

MISSION AND VISION

To enlighten each generation about civil and human rights by exploring our common past and working together in the present to build a better future. We stand strong as THE CORNERSTONE of the civil rights story, a living memorial with an ongoing mission.

VALUES

The Birmingham Civil Rights Institute is committed to:

- Preserving and telling the Birmingham story
- Being a good steward of archival and financial resources
- Creating programs that encourage cultural awareness
- Championing civil and human rights by facilitating an atmosphere of dialogue and understanding

The Birmingham Civil Rights Institute, part of the Birmingham Civil Rights National Monument and an affiliate of the Smithsonian Institution, is a cultural and educational research center that promotes a comprehensive understanding for the significance of civil rights developments in Birmingham. Celebrating its 25th anniversary in 2017, BCRI reaches more than 150,000 individuals each year through award-winning programs and services.

SOCIAL MEDIA AND TWEETING TIPS

Participants will have the opportunity to share their thoughts and engage with others via the hashtag #sampla90. We encourage panel attendees to participate in these insightful conversations online.

Social media offers interactive and dynamic ways to experience SAMPLA 90. Please use your computer, tablet, or mobile device to engage in the dialogue. SAMPLA is a knowledge-building, knowledge-sharing space, and we are curious to explore how social media can further enrich this experience.

TWEETING TIPS

- For every Tweet, we ask that participants add #sampla90 when Tweeting about a particular session.
- We encourage participants to keep their Tweets to 120 characters, making it possible for others to re-Tweet or add a comment as well.
- When re-Tweeting someone's Tweet, add a comment in order to add value to the original Tweet and the Tweeter.
- Include #sampla90 in your replies to other members to keep the conversation going!
- Follow or find panel conversations by including hashtags in the search bar.

HONORARY MEMBER NOMINATION: ALLEN JOSEPHS

Allen Josephs is a world-renowned Hemingway scholar and past president of the Ernest Hemingway Foundation and Society. His published works on Spanish culture include the critically-acclaimed Ritual and Sacrifice in the Corrida, four critical editions of the works of Federico Garcia Lorca, and numerous essays in the Atlantic, New Republic, and New York Times Book Review, among others.

He has been University Research Professor at the University of West Florida since 1986 [where he began teaching in 1969]. Professor Josephs has been awarded the George B. Smith Arts and Letters Award by the National Association of Taurine Clubs [for Ritual and Sacrifice in the Corrida] and an honorary membership in the Taurine Bibliophiles of America for his “outstanding contributions to taurine scholarship.”

In 2014, New Street Communications published his On Hemingway and Spain: Essays and Reviews, 1979-2013, and in 2016, On Cormac McCarthy: Essays on Mexico, Crime, Hemingway and God.

He has just finished a translation of Fernando Valverde’s The Insistence of Harm and is currently at work on a translation of Raquel Lanseros poetry. Dr. Josephs served as SAMLA President in 2008.

POSTHUMOUS HONORARY MEMBER: JUDITH ORTIZ COFER

Born in Puerto Rico, Judith Ortiz Cofer (1952-2016) was among the first Latinx writers published by university and mainstream publishing houses. National acclaim for a rising poet came with Terms of Survival (1987). Her first novel, The Line of the Sun (1989) was nominated for a Pulitzer Prize. In Silent Dancing (1990), a collection of creative non-fiction essays and poetry, Ortiz Cofer draws from autobiographical memoirs as an immigrant child raised in Paterson, New Jersey. The Puerto Rican barrio was central in her short-story "Nada," which received The O. Henry Award, and in The Latin Deli (1993), a collection of short stories, poetry, and creative non-fiction essays, also nominated for a Pulitzer Prize.

Her novels include Call Me María (2004) and The Meaning of Consuelo (2003). Collections of short stories and poems are The Year of Our Revolution (1998) and A Love Story Beginning in Spanish (2005). She also wrote youth literature: An Island Like You (1995) and Animal Jamboree: Latino Folktales (2012), collections of stories.

Woman in Front of the Sun (1999) explores the complex physical and psychological processes as a Latina writer. She furthered a feminist interest as co-editor of Sleeping With One Eye Open (2000), essays by women writers facing gender-based obstacles. Her last work, The Cruel Country, is a memoir that documents how Judith bravely faced the duties of taking care of her dying mother.

Until her retirement in 2013, Ortiz Cofer was the Franklin Professor of English and creative writing at the University of Georgia.

SOUTH ATLANTIC REVIEW

Journal of the South Atlantic Modern Language Association

Since its founding in 1935, South Atlantic Review has published research in modern languages and literatures, as well as in associated fields such as film, cultural studies, and rhetoric and composition.

SOUTH ATLANTIC REVIEW
AT CLEMSON UNIVERSITY

R. Barton Palmer is the current editor. He is pleased to welcome submissions of essays of between 6,500 and 8,000 words that are accessible, and of broad interest, to South Atlantic Review's diverse readership across the many disciplines that form the South Atlantic Modern Language Association.

Full submission guidelines may be found at <https://samla.memberclicks.net/sar>.

Please send submissions and other inquiries to the managing editor at SouthAtlanticReview@clemson.edu.

2018 SAMPLA EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE NOMINEES

SECOND VICE PRESIDENT

Rudyard Alcocer is the Forrest & Patsy Shumway Chair of Excellence in Romance Languages and Associate Professor of Latin American literature and culture in the Department of Modern Foreign Languages and Literatures at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, where he is the founding director of the Latin American and Caribbean Studies Faculty Seminar.

He is the author of Time Travel in the Latin American & Caribbean Imagination: Re-reading History (Palgrave Macmillan 2011), Narrative

Mutations: Discourses of Heredity and Caribbean Literature (Routledge 2005), and Celluloid Chains: Slavery in the Americas through Cinema (co-edited; forthcoming from University of Tennessee Press). Alcocer is also the founding faculty advisor for Vernacular: New Connections in Languages, Literatures, and Cultures: The University of Tennessee's graduate journal in French, German, and Hispanic Studies. He currently serves as president of MIFLC (Mountain Interstate Foreign Language Conference). Alcocer is currently preparing a monograph that explores empirical approaches to literary studies; this project is in many ways premised on the search for methodologies most capable of making the literature classroom engaging to its students. Alcocer teaches all levels of Latin American literature and culture, and has designed and taught advanced courses involving the Hispanic Caribbean and the African Diaspora in Spanish America.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEMBER

In January 2019 Bryan Giemza will join the faculty of the Honors College at Texas Tech University as tenured professor of humanities and literature. Bryan is author or an editor of six academic books on American literary and cultural history, including Irish Catholic Writers and the Invention of the American South and Images of Depression-Era Louisiana: The FSA Photographs of Ben Shahn, Russell Lee, and Marion Post Wolcott. As principal investigator of grants from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation and National Endowment for the Humanities, among others, he has led a variety of public humanities projects concerning the history and culture of the U.S. South. Most recently he served as Director of the Southern Historical Collection at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he developed practices in community-driven archives.
