Greetings all,

The first three documents I have attached are one-page outlines of the methods and the mentor text literature review and a two-page collection protocol rationale.

These should be sufficient to guide our discussion. However, I also have attached:

- the Chairperson's Report from last October, which includes what you asked me to do
- the email from the ARC (Applications for Research Compliance) people indicating I do not need to submit this work for IRB review
- the draft of my mentor text literature review, which is still in process but my approach and thinking is evident

I have not made enough headway on the methods chapter itself to warrant including it here, but the outline is detailed.

What is not included is a deeper discussion of theories of editorial cartoons. I am aware I need to include this material, and I have gathered a number of resources. I'm not sure where I will include this yet, but probably in a definition of terms in the first chapter or in the methods section.

My updated CV can be viewed on the Web site I created for this year's annual review -- and I invite you to browse the site, especially the "Committee of Advisors" page. I created a Web site instead of an electronic portfolio -- figuring I can then use the site as a tool during employment searches.

I look forward to meeting with you tomorrow. Please let me know if any further information would be helpful to you.

Anne

Thanks for sending this, Anne--and fantastic website! I may need to hire you to fix mine for me (you have free time to do that, right?) I especially want to compliment the "Committee of Advisors" tab...what a gorgeous group of individuals!

Looking forward to this afternoon's chat,
Thomas
